

I am an American citizen who believes in freedom, and especailly the freedom to the access of diversity of information. We the people deserve to have our media represent the diversity of our population. We need rules and regulations to ensure that media in this country does not become even more of a monopoly.